

SESSION V: North American Regional Impacts Panel

Ellis Cowling – North Carolina State University

Our most important objective is to present and discuss information about pollutants and linkages and effects. What we are going to do in the next panel discussion is have an introduction into the nature of their effects on a regional basis.

SESSION V. North American Regional Impacts Panel